Willkommen

auf dem Internationalen Campus!

An der Internationalen Woche 2024, vom 10. bis 14. Juni, werden fast 30 internationale Lehrende teilnehmen und die Lehrveranstaltungen mit ihren internationalen Perspektiven auf Forschung und Lehre bereichern. Die Besonderheit: Die Lehrveranstaltungen der internationalen Gäste finden im Rahmen der Lehrveranstaltungen ihrer Vechtaer Fachkolleg*innen statt, werden in deutscher oder englischer Sprache gehalten und sind für Interessierte geöffnet.

Das International Office wünscht allen Teilnehmer*innen eine spannende und aufschlussreiche Woche!

Welcome to the International Campus!

The International Week 2024 from 10th to 14th of June 2024 will be visited by about 30 international academic guests, who will enrich the lectures with their international perspectives on research and teaching. The peculiarity of the international week is that the international guests' lectures take place within the scope of lectures of their Vechtaer colleagues, the lessons are held in either German or English and are opened to interested visitors.

The International Office wishes all participants an exciting and informative week.

Prof. Dr. Uchinokura
Kagoshima University, Japan

I am Shingo Uchinokura an Associate Professor at Kagoshima University, Japan. I studied chemistry, completed the Master's Program in Education, and earned a Ph.D. in Education from the University of Tsukuba. After teaching chemistry in high school for seven years, I worked at Shizuoka University for five years. Since 2013, I have had seminars on primary and secondary science teaching and practical teacher training as an Associate Professor at this university. My research focus is on the development of students' scientific competencies for modelling and representation, their conceptual understanding through instructional scaffolding, and the promotion and improvement of teachers' professional training. With an empirical approach, I pursue the psychology of science learners and teachers. In addition, I have a lesson study with the primary and secondary school teachers and provide professional consulting to them. In cooperation with the Kagoshima Science Museum and other colleagues, I am also involved in organising an annual summer science festival for children. As a research fellow at the Japan Textbook Research Center, I contribute to research on textbooks and cooperate with a textbook publisher. Other interests include comparing Japan to other countries and networking internationally with educational researchers.
